police, which is responsible for maintaining law and order, protecting the lives and property of citizens, combating crime and delinquency, overseeing compliance with the law, and providing services related to the personal and public safety of Israeli citizens and inhabitants of the country. The National Police of Israel consists of central and territorial police forces, as well as the National Police Headquarters of the Israeli Police stationed in Jerusalem. Israel's territorial police force, as in most countries around the world, is the most numerous and forms the basis of the state's law enforcement agencies. At the same time, most of these forces are patrol services.

The Ministry of Internal Security and the Israeli National Police have no authority over citizenship, passport and registration. These functions are entrusted to the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Israel, which is responsible for the management of local authorities, citizenship and residence, identity cards and entry visas.

The Israeli police have adopted a model of community policing. The main result of this is the minimization of state intervention in society, the departure from the "punitive" policy and the reorientation of activities to the provision of special public services.

The advantages of the functioning of the police system of the State of Israel analyzed by us are of undoubted interest from the point of view of improving the organization and legal support of the activity of the system of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Ukraine in the field of internal security.

Keywords: internal security, the Ministry of Internal Security of Israel, the National Police of Israel, special units of the Israeli police, the concept of "community policing", foreign experience.
