data on the integrity of civil servants. The essence of the legal mechanism of the peculiarities of the integrity of civil servants of the National Agency of Ukraine of Civil Service, which ensures the formation and implementation of public policy aimed at the protection of human and civil rights, public interests, and the exercise of powers granted to civil servants to perform state functions or local government should prevail over private interests. It is determined that the verification of the integrity of civil servants should be carried out by creating a system of transparency and accountability of civil servants to reduce corruption risks in the civil service, as well as to create conditions for its proper governance in the interests of man and citizen, state and its institutions, and the rule of law.

The author's concepts "prevention of corruption offenses by civil servants" and "integrity check of civil servants" are stated, as well as the proposals for the improvement of the legislation and regulations of Ukraine on the establishment of a new institution of integrity testing of civil servants of the National Civil Service Agency of Ukraine have been suggested.

In the context of adapting the legislation of Ukraine to the legislation of the European Union, it is important to establish an institution of checking the integrity of civil servants in order to combat corruption and restore confidence in the civil service of citizens and legal entities. Therefore, the establishment of this institution in accordance with the proper governance of the civil service is currently the most pressing issue, it is discussed in our society and the international community and is of a great interest among domestic scholars in administrative law, public administration and other legal documents.
